

Siobhan Wilcox Presents

Exploring the Mystical World of Spirit

Introduction

Hi, my name is Siobhán (Shevon) Wilcox, I have been attuned to the healing arts since the age of six. Known as an Irish Soul Whisperer, Evolution Activator, and Land Harmonizer with nearly three decades of experience. I came with a deep-seated mission to support spiritual evolution. My passion is to empower individuals to align fully with their higher selves and divine purpose. Part of my work encompasses guiding you to connect with your spiritual guidance team, clearing ancestral issues, exploring karma, addressing interference from other timelines, and dissolving dark spells, among other spiritual challenges.

As the founder of Sacred Wisdom Academy, I offer a variety of resources designed to foster spiritual growth, including online courses, free monthly gatherings, virtual live workshops, and private sessions for soul and home healing.

I also host retreats worldwide, Ireland is on the cards for 2025, and provide personalized coaching, creating modern magic and harmony in today's busy world. You can use this link to be added to my MYSTICAL IRISH RETREAT

Your Soul's Journey

It has been my experience, that the choice to come to this planet, as a human is made consciously. From what I have witnessed. during the last 30 years of my healing arts work, we are also dedicated into a special soul group at the beginning of our soul's incarnation.

We weave many different live times and experiences with members of this soul group throughout our journey. Ever meet someone new & feel like you have known them forever? Yes, they are probably from this original Soul Group! In general, it appears as if this origin soul group has come with similar patterns & evolutionary goals and depending on the lifetime & the roles we chose to play out, depends on the relationships and lense we experience this co-creative space through.

However as well as these co-creators in our earthly journeys we also have a spirit team dedicated to supporting your earthly adventures.

I wrote this mini e-book to help you get a deeper understanding of the possible team members that maybe assigned to you.

Depending on the evolution journey you have decided upon, decides the team you get. For example; if you were the CEO of a large company you would have a team of corporate executives to support your decisions and help you build your company. It is the same in the world of spirit. For those who come with the mission to be lightworkers, they are given more guides to support the building of their healing lightwork practice, so they can serve more and make more of an impact.

We are all born with guides and a guardian angel. Nobody comes here without a support member from the otherside. However depending on your specific mission, depends on whether you get Masterguides.

The Guides that come to be with us can be past family members, or ancestors here to support our life journey. Guardian Angels can also be former earth angels - people who lived on this planet before and know how it operates and they are usually attached to your soul group through many incarnations.

Everyone has these special supports in place. However, those who have dedicated their journey as lightworkers, who are here to heal others, and support spiritual evolution or awakening on the planet - they usually have an upgraded support team. This team is rarely with you from birth, like your guides are, they arrive close to when your soul starts to embark on its re-awakening.

However, Indigo, Crystal, and Rainbow children are unique in that they receive their Masterguides from the moment they take their first breath. These children come into the world with a clear mission, guided by these Ascended Beings from day one.

Through my work, I have had the privilege of connecting with a diverse array of these spiritual guides. Below, I will explore the various categories of these Ascended Beings that surround and support lightworkers.

Categories of Ascended Beings

Totem Animals

When an animal serves as a Masterguide, such as the Bear, it embodies the highest essence of that power animal. After sessions involving these guides, clients often describe a deep resonance with the animal throughout different stages of their lives. They often start to notice these animals, or versions of these animals, appearing around them in conversations, artwork, jewelry etc. Often you may already feel attracted to the totem of a power animal that is on your team. Your higher self is always delivering information to you and guiding you to expand. Always trust your intuition and senses.

Archangels

Archangels are powerful celestial beings that bring immense love and guidance. Though there are varying opinions on their numbers—some say there are 13, others 15—these beings are universally revered for their support and are omnipresent. Inviting them to support you does not take them away from supporting another - please remember that, no task is too small and all they request is gratitude for the support they offer.

The four chief Archangels are:

- Archangel Michael: CEO of the Angelic Realm. Provides strength and protection, both energetically and physically. Associated with violet and gold colors, Michael helps remove dark entities, trapped souls, and emotional and energetic cords, bringing balance and centeredness.
- Archangel Raphael: Known for healing, especially for those who work with their hands. He is often associated with an emerald green glow.
- Archangel Gabriel: Supports the creation of dreams, communication, and the flow of information. Gabriel often works with artists, messengers, and metaphysical teachers, and appears with colors like midnight blue, turquoise, and sometimes magenta pink.
- Archangel Uriel: Brings determination and focus to manifest dreams and mission work. Uriel's presence aligns your life, often with colors like reds, oranges, and magenta, fueling creative energies.

Ascended Masters

These include past saints and enlightened beings such as Jesus, St. Francis of Assisi, Paramahansa Yogananda, Mother Mary, and Buddha. These Masters offer profound wisdom and guidance. They come with no karma and are also omnipresent.

Devas and Fairies

Pan oversees the Devic Realm. I met him in 2008 and he began training me deeply in the power of this magical 5th dimensional realm. He told me that he is known as the architect and in this role holds the blueprints of this planet.

I now work with him daily as he supports all my land healing and home harmonizing services. Over 50% of the work I do is to support the earth and environments for my clients. For us to evolve with ease, our environments are essential.

The Devic realm or fairy realm as most know them, was here before humans, they are 5th dimensional, and range from small, yet powerful, flower fairies to playful leprechauns and larger nature spirits. These beings are diverse in form and function, contributing to the natural and mystical world around us.

Extra-terrestrials & Beings from Different Dimensions

Beyond our third-dimensional reality, many dimensions and planets are home to beautiful beings of light. These beings, such as the Arcturians and the Pleiadians, bring information to help us with new technologies and oneness consciousness. They act often as part of our Masterguidance teams, depending on our mission and purpose. Many times we may have had existences on other planets and these supports receiving guidance from these interdimensional places.

Mystical Beings

Unicorns, Dragons, Phoenixes, and other magical beings bring immense power and inspiration to your spiritual mission.

They embody the purity, strength of the archetype of these beings when they are part of our team.

The Angelic Realm Revealed

The angelic realm is structured in various levels, each with its own unique focus and purpose. These levels are equally special and are integral to the spiritual support system that surrounds us.

1. Guardian Angels

Everyone on Earth has a guardian angel whose primary role is to protect and guide us. They communicate through uplifting and supportive messages, encouraging us to take the high road and maintain integrity. Unlike the internal critic, which is often negative and limiting, the voice of a Guardian Angel is nurturing, expansive, and always aims to uplift our spirit.

For example, if you seek guidance on your diet, your Guardian Angel might say, "You are so beautiful; however, your energy levels are affected by the amount of chocolate you consume. This habit is unbalancing your digestive system and making you feel exhausted."

In contrast, the internal critic might say, "You eat too much chocolate. It's making you fat. You have no self-control and will never lose weight."

By connecting with your Guardian Angel, you can quiet this critical voice, increase your self-esteem, and understand your true worth. Guardian Angels are always available to assist you, requiring only that you ask for their help and express gratitude.

2. The Great Archangels

These magnificent beings of light have been explored earlier. With the exception of Archangel Metatron and Archangel Sandalphon, it is believed that they have never incarnated as humans.

3. The Powers, the Virtues, and the Dominions

- The Powers: These Angels assist with specific functions and activities, such as baking, writing, safe driving, and childbirth. They can be called upon for help with particular tasks.
- The Virtues: These Angels oversee all virtues, such as courage, grace, peace, generosity, charity, and faith. You can call on them to enhance a specific virtue in your life.
- The Dominions: These Angels watch over large areas, such as entire countries or states. They can be invoked to help heal or advise on situations within these places.

4. The Seraphim, the Ophanim, the Cherubim, and the Chayyot HaKodesh

These are the great Angels that surround and guard the throne of God.

- The Seraphim: Known as the fiery ones, they are responsible for all vibration and color, sending these energies out into the universe. They are said to have multiple wings and ceaselessly chant "Kadosh, Kadosh, Kadosh," which means "Holy" in Hebrew.
- The Ophanim: These Angels, whose name means "wheels" in Hebrew, are the time lords responsible for evolution, harmony, timing, and celestial music. They are the first angels mentioned in the Book of Enoch.
- The Cherubim: Guarding the portal of the heart, these Angels ensure that only truth emerges. Though often depicted as sweet childlike beings, they are powerful guardians of divine truth.
- The Chayyot HaKodesh: Led by Archangel Metatron, these Holy Animators are responsible for bringing creation to life. When we create, our intentions are vibrated by the Seraphim, timed by the Ophanim, and animated by the Chayyot HaKodesh, making them ready to manifest in our reality.

This exploration into the mystical world of spirit offers a glimpse into the complex and beautiful support system that surrounds us all. Whether through animal guides, Archangels, or the highest Seraphim, these beings are here to assist, guide, and uplift us on our spiritual journey.

Conclusion

I hope you have enjoyed this mini e-book, I have very much enjoyed creating it for you. My intention was to educate, inspire and help you realize that you all have support, even when sometimes you may feel alone.

I want to leave you with a powerful personal story of how my life was saved by one of my Masterguides.

In 2008, on a rainy evening in San Diego, I was driving home at dusk. I had spent a fun afternoon with my friends at a baby shower. During this event, I told everyone about the angels and their power.

We played with Angel Cards and everyone left feeling renewed and inspired. I felt particularly connected to the angels as I left. As soon as I turned on my car I was given a message by Archangel Michael - "Be very careful on your way home. Drive slowly. There is going to be a problem on the road." I let everyone leaving know about the warning I received as many were going in the same direction.

As always seems to happen in San Diego, when it rains the crazy drivers come out to play. The message was at the forefront of my mind so I was being extra vigilant. I decided to drive a little slower than usual and so had settled in behind a heavily loaded pick-up truck cruising at around 55mph.

I was half way home when suddenly Archangel Michael's voice shouted at me. He spoke with power and force and commanded me to "Slow down NOW and change Lanes". I looked in my rearview & side mirrors. As I had been driving at a slower speed, there were no other cars behind me and the next lane over was free. So I did as I was commanded and quickly changed lane, slowing down.

And then it happened. In a millisecond the rope broke that had been holding the mattress atop of the pick-up truck and it flew through the air landing on the road. Shock and relief rushed through me all at the same time. I checked my rearview mirror again. No one had collided with it. Everyone was safe and I had just survived what definitely could have been a fatal accident. I thanked the Angels all the way home, I thanked God and I hugged my boys when I got through the door with a new renewed energy for life.

As I have already said, it is part of my mission to help others expand their evolutionary journey.

I do this in many ways by helping my clients:

- Connect with their guidance team
- Amplify their Intuition & Lightworker Gifts
- Clear Ancestral Baggage
- Harmonize homes & properties, including businesses
- Move trapped souls over to the otherside
- Soul Memory Discovery Sessions - release auric blockages, karma, dark entities etc
- Workshops to allow you to live your best life
- Retreats & trainings to enhance your sacred practices
- Monthly gathers to build a soul community
